

Cantarutti presents: Maki by Adam Cornish

Press release

A thin sinuous structure creates a seamless harmony of lines and shapes that invites to take a seat and be embraced by its elegant lightness. MAKI is the new chair collection born from the collaboration between Cantarutti and Australian designer Adam Cornish. An artful design concept that marries aesthetics with function. The fluid lines of MAKI look like the result of a natural expression, yet they are developed through an accurate research of materials and shapes that make it a unique stacking chair. The new MAKI chair is fruit of a design meant at simplifying this everyday object to only the essential, while giving it a delicate and refined character through a distinct silhouette that enables efficient vertical stacking.

Adam Cornish

Adam Cornish is a multidisciplinary designer working from his independent design studio in Melbourne Australia. Adam aims to create honest accessible products developed through research and by allowing products to find their natural expression. By combining strong, simple design solutions with a palette of natural tactile materials Adam strives to create individual products with visual and physical longevity.